

Let a parent or guardian know where you are.

Telephone Tips!

- Phone home to tell your parents where you are if you change locations or will be late.
- NEVER tell a caller that you are home alone.
- Dial 9-1-1 if you are home alone and need help in an emergency.

Attention Mom and Dad

This pamphlet is to aid you, as parents in teaching your child about the problem of the potential child predator. As parents, we have a role in this problem. The child needs to know some very basic steps in avoiding this situation without frightening the child unnecessarily.

A predator will try to trick the child using a toy, money, candy or anything else they might think of. They will also try to take the child away from places where they play, or areas where the child walks to and from an event or school. Teach your child to ALWAYS ask the adult in charge before they go with anyone.

We hope this pamphlet can be used as a valuable tool for parent and child alike.
